

UNIONIST GAINS NOT SUFFICIENT

Have Captured Only Three Seats From the Coalition in Great Britain.

STANDING OF THE PARTIES

Friday's Polling Productive of One Surprise—the Defeat of Timothy Healy.

London, Dec. 10.—More than two-thirds of 450 members of the new house of commons have been elected, and the political parties stand practically as they were at dissolution of parliament. The Unionists, who last week expected to gain at least twenty seats, thus far have secured but three from their opponents.

The standing of the parties tonight is: Government coalition: Liberals, 163; Nationalists, 23; Laborites, 29; Independent Nationalists, 6; total, 251.

Opposition: Unionists, 209. Liberal gains, 14. Unionists, 21. Labor, 4.

Defeat of Tim Healy.

Outside of the defeat of Timothy Healy, Nationalist, in his old constituency, Louth, which is attributed to Cardinal Logue's prohibition of the priests participating in the election, today's results did not produce any surprise, unless it was the failure of the Liberals to recapture Denbigh. The result in this Welsh borough is characteristic of the whole election.

W. Ormsby-Gore won the seat last January by eight votes, and today he increased his majority by one vote, although the polling on both sides fell off.

Mr. Fresen has offered his seat for Cork to Mr. Healy, but Healy has declined it, for he intends to try to upset the election at Louth of Richard Hazleton, Nationalist, alleging illegal practices on the part of his opponents.

Two members of the cabinet, premier Asquith and Reginald McKenna, first lost of the admiralty, were involved in today's contest, but the outcome in Mr. Asquith's constituency will not be known until tomorrow. Mr. McKenna obtained a re-election at Monmouthshire North.

Smaller Liberal Majorities.

The Liberal majorities in Lancashire continued to fall today without, however, any increase in the Unionist vote, which shows how many Liberal supporters are staying away from the polls. The Unionists consider this the first of a wholesale desertion of the government, and that the next time the deserters will vote the Unionist ticket.

The most optimistic Unionists now have no hope of making serious inroads on the government majority. Their leaders persist, however, that the election was unnecessary, that the result practically amounts to a vote of lack of confidence and that with the Nationalist and the Laborite, exacting the fullest price for their support it will be impossible for the cabinet to remain in power. To this the Liberals reply that the Unionists, after the January elections, insisted that a government had received simply a mandate on the budget and that the election was not decisive on the question of the status of the house of lords. Now, they add, both parties have placed the house of lords in the forefront and even a reduced coalition majority will justify them in proceeding with the veto bill, and if necessary in asking of King George a guarantee to insure its passage.

Views of the Press.

The Unionist successes in Lancashire cause great satisfaction to the Unionist weekly newspapers. But they bemoan lack of Unionist successes in London.

The Saturday Review says: "London City was carried by corruption." Such charges seldom are made concerning English elections, though candidates directly or indirectly spend great sums of money.

The polling tomorrow will be brief. Only thirteen constituencies are to be called on to choose members, and in only half of them will the result be known tomorrow night.

Riotous scenes are taking place in many of the Irish towns. As the result of a riot at Thurles tonight, John Dillon was unable to leave town and had to remain hidden as a crowd remained hidden in the road to the railway station to waylay him. The trouble commenced at a meeting addressed by Mr. Dillon, which the O'Riordanites tried to break up. The police had to make several charges to quell the fighting.

SALES OF FRIAR LANDS

Martin of Colorado Outlines His Charges in the Matter.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Representative Martin of Colorado, Democrat, who started the fight for an investigation of the sales of the friar lands in the Philippines, made a statement before the House committee on insular affairs today, outlining his charges against the administration of those lands by the Philippine government.

The committee adjourned to meet next Tuesday, when Dean C. Worcester, of the Philippine commission, and other members of a delegation that have come to this country from Manila, are expected to testify.

There's no pleasure at all in "keeping borders" if you have so few that you make no profit. Therefore, a good effort to be made, however, in a boarding house that is well managed—and that means "well advertised."

Third Annual Ball Given by Firemen

Function at Odeon for Relief Association Is Successful in Spite of Bad Weather.

Despite threatening weather of last evening, there was a record-breaking crowd in attendance at the third annual ball given under the auspices of the Firemen's Relief Association, in the Odeon hall, last night.

The sum realized for the fund for the benefit of injured firemen will be larger than ever.

Over three hundred persons were present, which represented only a part of the tickets disposed of, many of the merchants and business men of the city taking a number of tickets for the good of the cause.

An estimate made last night by those in charge of the affair showed that the event would net at least $450 for the fund, an increase of $100 over the amount secured last year.

Despite the fact that it was the only night of the year when the fire ladders were used, there was no fire.

Protection for a few hours, there was but little reduction in the fire fighting forces. On those with their regular day off falling on this date were allowed to attend, and it goes without saying that the firemen were the envy of all who were present.

All week the firemen of the various departments resorted to planning, scheming and bribing in an effort to reach the scene of merriment.

Even those present were subject to call, a man being stationed at the telephone all evening, with orders to break up the dance in case of a serious fire.

By previous arrangement, the firemen attending the dance were required to wear their regulation uniform or pay the penalty with a fine of $1. Only one man was fined, while nine firemen in uniform constituted the entertainment committee.

This committee was constantly changing, many returning to their quarters to allow others an opportunity of attending the affair.
